morphy richards®

smart ideas for your home

has a rich history in producing outstanding electrical appliances.

1936

Former colleagues, Donal Morphy an engineer and Charles Richards a salesman teamed up and on the 8th July 1936 registered their new enterprise as a private company manufacturing and dealing in electrical, gas, radio and television equipment.

1940

Began a programme of expansion into other areas after the Second World War. Launched as a public company in 1947 then merged with Astral, a Dundee based firm that manufactured and sold spin dryers and refrigerators.

1950

New irons were developed that featured bevelled soleplates for ironing around buttons and calibrated heat control, as well as pilot lights and comfortable grips. 1954 saw the first heat-controlled steam and dry iron with its own boiler and 25 minutes of steam assisted ironing.

1960

Donal Morphy sold his shares to EMI, prompting a take-over. Charles Richards joined GEC, heading their domestic appliance business in 1963. New Managing Director Willis Roxburgh decided to place more emphasis on large domestic appliances and in 1961 opened a second factory in Dundee.

1970

By 1972 BDA (incorporating Hotpoint, English Electric, GEC and Morphy Richards) had become the biggest manufacturers of electrical appliances in the UK with a turnover of £50 million generated by 10,700 employees. Two years later, the group grew after merging with Schreiber Furniture Organisation and then BDA changed its name to Hotpoint in 1975.

•SINCE 1936•

Innovation throughout the 90s with our branded products ensured that we were among the most advanced manufacturers of household appliances.

Innovation through both product delivery and marketing communications continues to meet the evolving needs of our consumers as we progress through the digital age.

Sold in April 1982 to Capital for Industry, who were a holding company owned by the Throgmorton Trust. With an awareness of contemporary design and Innovation, product development flourished with new irons, radio cassett es and portable TVs, as well as a sandwich toaster.

In November 2000 and June 2007 the Mexborough site flooded but from the heroic efforts by all employees the business was able to run with minimum disruption from a temporary site that became our new home in 2008.

Today we continue to lead the market through our innovative designs and manufacturing to the highest standards, to provide products that make life easier.
